From The Press

"One of those wonderful seemingly unassuming riches that kind of sneaks its way into your consciousness and won't leave".

- Bob Gottlieb, Folk & Acoustic Music Exchange

"As on all his previous releases, his words and voice hold down center stage with a craft so deeply in the artistic pocket that it obscures anything outside."

-Hyperbolium, No Depression

"The tradition of an artist delivering songs that are damn near perfectly crafted and filled with the wisdom of the ages."

- Jedd Beaudoin, PopMatters

"Jeff Black has the troubadour quality of a Steve Goodman, the poetic dignity of a Bruce Springsteen, and the outer-fringe edge of Townes Van Zandt. We kid you not."

- Steve Morse, The Boston Globe

"Jeff Black is a musical genius."
 - Steven Stone, Vintage Guitar

"Nothing short of brilliant. Top to bottom, this stuff is special. Black is an artist of substance."

- Ray Waddell, Billboard

"Black is a bard with the baritone contemplation of Leonard Cohen and the roots dialect of Townes Van Zandt; he writes songs that ache and haunt you, songs that trigger your empathy"

- Mark Uricheck, Elmore Magazine

"Song crafting at its best."
 - Rob Reinhart, Acoustic Café
